NOTICE TO SHIPP[ERS]

[illegible]

Chicago, Friday, Oct. 20, 1871.

The Chicago Tribune.

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21, 1871.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has opened its offices at No. 15 South Canal street, West Division, and the paper will hereafter be regularly issued from that place till further notice.

To Advertisers.

We devote all the space we can possibly spare to advertisers in this morning's paper, and those who find that their advertisements are left out will pardon it to the necessity of giving a fair portion of our columns to the reading public. The demand for intelligence is not only insatiable, but it is absolutely necessary to the welfare of the people and the city that much of that which we publish should go to the public. We divide our space between the reader and the advertiser, and that is the best we can do for both classes. The advertiser will understand that the earlier in the day he gives us what he wishes to have published, and the smaller the space into which he condenses it, the more likely it is to find a place in our columns.

FOR MAYOR, HENRY GREENEBAUM.

There seems to be a general feeling in the several divisions of the city in favor of the election of HENRY GREENEBAUM for Mayor. Mr. Greenebaum has proved himself one of the most systematic and thorough-going workers in the whole city since the fire broke out. His head has been level all the time, and his hands busy with well-directed efforts to bring order out of confusion, and fortitude out of consternation. He is a resident of the West Division, where a majority of the voters are now domiciled. He is a German by birth, but has resided in Chicago longer than nineteen-twentieths of our native-born population. His character is above suspicion in all respects. His former service in the Board of Aldermen has made him familiar with public business. He is one of the few men fit to be entrusted with the office of Mayor at a junction like the present.

We commend Mr. Greenebaum earnestly to the consideration of our stricken people, believing him to be equal to the emergency. It is unnecessary to add that he has not been consulted in advance in reference to his possible candidacy, but it is believed that no man who has a heart in his breast will refuse to serve his fellow-citizens now, in any capacity, where they think he can serve them best.

THE ACTION OF THE STATE.

The people of Chicago have been placed under a debt of everlasting gratitude to the State of Illinois. In all States there is more or less ill-feeling on the part of smaller cities and the agricultural districts toward the metropolis of the State. Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, and each of the other large cities, have had to contend with prejudices which naturally sprung up against any community exercising an extraordinary proportion of political power, and whose interests are more or less peculiar and concentrated. Chicago has been no exception to the general rule. But the terrible calamity with which we have been visited has dismantled and thrown down every prejudice. The disaster has been contemplated as one to the State at large, and from all parts of Illinois the people sent up representatives to accept on their behalf as much of the heavy loss as can be constitutionally transferred to them. The voice of party and of sectionalism was silenced. In the language of a member from a far-off county, Chicago in ashes was too powerful for opposition. The people of the State have not only shared with us their bread, their provisions, their clothing, and their money, but they have now, through the Legislature, promptly, and unanimously, passed all the relief bills which it was possible for them to pass, and which even prostrate Chicago could ask. The bill by which the State refunded us our expenditure on the canal was of immense relief, and its passage at any other time would have been impossible. There were strong economic objections honestly entertained by many members; but the generous hearts of the people have risen above all other considerations, and into our lap have been poured every dollar that the State could properly give. To our fellow citizens of Illinois, in behalf of their stricken city, we return thanks—the thanks which come from hearts that can only be overcome by kindness. In the future, when Chicago shall have been restored to her true power and glory, it will be her province to do whatever may be within her reach to enrich, honor, and ennoble the great State of Illinois and her generous-hearted people.

MAYOR MASON—THE FIRE.

Mayor Mason has been accused by the Chicago Times of inefficiency and indifference during the progress of the fire. We are authoritatively informed that on Monday morning, when the fire crossed the South Branch of the river, Mayor Mason, accompanied by his two sons and H. G. Miller Esq., left his house and proceeded directly to his office in the Court House building. He sent his sons to find out about the fire and report to him. He went to police headquarters and telegraphed to Milwaukee, Joliet, Springfield, and Detroit for fire engines, and gave an order to use powder to blow up buildings under the direction of the Fire Marshal. When the roof of the old Court House took fire, he sent a written order to the Sheriff to release the prisoners in the jail. He remained in the building until some time after the roof of the old building had fallen in. He then tried to reach the lake shore, but could not get through Randolph, Lake, or Water streets; he crossed Clark street bridge in company with ex-Mayor Rumsey, and went some blocks north, when he turned to Rush street bridge, and by the bridge on that street got to Michigan avenue. He then personally directed the tearing down and blowing up of buildings on Wabash avenue and Harrison streets, by which the fire was ultimately checked in that direction. The progress of the fire, after it reached Madison street, and had attacked the Chamber of Commerce, the Union Bank Block, and the Court House, was rapid in the extreme. The heat was intense, and buildings were on fire at a dozen points in advance of those places. It was not in the power of human agencies to put out the fire anywhere in the line of that fierce wind. It was not Mayor Mason's fault that it was not stopped, nor was it under his administration that the wooden roof was put on the pumping works.

COUNTRY MERCHANTS.

The country correspondents of our Chicago merchants can do more to relieve suffering and distress in this city, by prompt remittances on account, than in any other way. Our manufacturers and merchants are the largest employers of labor. They give work to clerks, mechanics, laborers, teamsters, and thus support their families. Anything done to re-establish the employment of these men affords to the deserving, industrious poor much greater relief than that afforded by the aid committees. Every thousand dollars expended in wages per week for labor will accomplish more direct and permanent relief than five times that sum distributed in charity to unemployed persons. Every man or woman put at work on wages becomes self-supporting, and is no longer a consumer of the supplies intended for the destitute. If one-half those thrown out of employment can be given back, the number to be supported is [illegible] in the same proportion. The Chicago [illegible] and manufacturers need ready money to pay wages, and if their debtors outside the city will take a little pains to remit as often and as much as they can on the current accounts, they will not only be doing justice, but will furnish the means with which those out of work may be re-employed at living wages.

THE CHICAGO RELIEF SOCIETY.

The great calamity which has overtaken Chicago has developed the executive ability of the Chicago Relief Society in the most remarkable and gratifying manner. Prior to the fire it had always been efficient, but its operations were comparatively limited, and its plan of relief simple and easily managed. Almost at a moment's notice the conflagration extended its field of labor. Thousands of homeless women and children and suffering men, destitute of provisions, shelter, and clothing, were suddenly thrown upon its charity, instead of the few hundreds who had previously relied upon it. Their appeal for relief was instant and urgent. Not only must provision be made for them during the coming winter, but their present necessities must also be met. It was an emergency which had never been contemplated, or even supposed to be probable; but the society instantly met the emergency without quailing, although nearly every member of it was more or less concerned with his own personal losses and troubles, and proved itself equal to it.

In meeting this great question of relief the society found an ample and indispensable auxiliary in the unexampled tide of contributions which flowed hitherward from every city in the country. There was danger, however, that in this spontaneous and impulsive outpouring the city would be inundated and the contributions wasted. The society bent its first energies to the avoidance of this danger. It districted the city, established storehouses, and appointed competent men to receive, arrange, and care for the supplies. Having satisfactorily established its base of general operations, it then turned its attention to the details of the work before it. Having been officially invested with supreme power in the matter of relief, and having regulated the auxiliary societies of churches and other institutions, it commenced the herculean task of examining the individual applicants who presented themselves. Their names were registered, and their actual condition ascertained. If able-bodied men presented themselves, and were willing to work, employment was provided for them; if they were unwilling to work, they were turned away as unworthy of aid, and without ceremony. Those men who could not work, and women and children, were supplied with immediate aid. The hungry found food, the naked clothes, and the homeless, shelter.

The society now has its plans for the present fully matured, and its machinery in perfect working order. No person need have apprehensions of suffering who is worthy to receive relief. Its next great duty is to forestall suffering during the coming winter, and it has entered upon these duties with the same energy of purpose and remarkable executive ability that characterized it during the memorable fire week. It has already erected one hundred and thirty-five comfortable homes for the homeless, and is making such arrangements for fuel, food, and clothing, that none shall go cold or hungry. The performance of the past is a guarantee for the future. It should be the grateful task of every good citizen to aid the society by relieving individual suffering in his own neighborhood, and thus enable it to concentrate its efforts where it can do the most good. Chicago has faith in the future,—has hope growing out of the ruins of her past; but "the greatest of these is charity;" and among all the noble deeds and shining examples, and self-sacrifice and devotion to humanity developed by the great calamity, none stand clearer or brighter than the work of the Chicago Relief Society.

VAGABONDISM.

To avoid impositions, and the danger of bestowing charity upon unworthy people, will be a matter of extreme difficulty. At nearly every church in the West Division, yesterday, great, lazy, able-bodied hulks of men were sitting and lounging about the churches, smoking their pipes, and waiting for their turn to be helped. These do-nothings are taking the bread out of the mouths of deserving, suffering women and children. There is work enough for these men to do of some sort, and no relief should be afforded them whatever until they show that they can get nothing to do. If a man won't work when he can work, let him go hungry. Just as long as this class are encouraged by relief, just so long will they remain idle, and their numbers will increase by the demoralization which their example will have upon others who are not at work. Let these vagabonds once know that there is no help for them, except in honest labor, and they will go to work and swell the ranks of the Tin Kettle Brigade, whose processions at morning and evening from the South Side to the West Side, and from the North Side to the South Side, give a cheerful, encouraging aspect to the cheerless ruins. But the Relief Society understand this thing better than we do. They are weeding out the vagabonds with systematic rapidity.

Another question is arising in the social economy which always has made trouble and now presents new phases of difficulty. The question turns upon the relations of servant girls and mistresses. Many servants are refusing to work at all, and subsisting upon charity. This waste of relief, as in the case of lazy male laborers, should be checked at once. Others are demanding higher wages at a time when housekeepers feel it necessary to retrench in every direction. There is a glut of servant girls on the market, to speak in commercial phrase. Hundreds are out of employment, and those in service, with a stupidity which seems unaccountable, demand an increase of pay, trusting that those out of work will adhere to their position. For once there is a spirit on the part of housekeepers to resist this demand, and a movement is already on foot to bring about a consultation between prominent ladies of the West and South Divisions, in which they may fix upon some definite plan, and work together for the common good. They are determined to be no longer overridden by their former tyrants, and will give their servants to understand that they, as well as mistresses, must economize and retrench. In view of the coming winter with its severities, it will be the part of wisdom for servants to accept the new situation, and to go to work at wages which shall bear a just relation to the new basis of domestic expenses. Acting in any other manner they, and they only, must suffer.

And now, as there is work enough to do, let every man go to work. There is no surer reminder of trouble than idleness, no easier way of forgetting trouble than employment.

A great improvement was apparent in grain circles yesterday. Since the fire the produce markets have been very weak, owing to a universal desire to realize on property held here, for the double reason that money was scarce, and insurance considered to be doubtful. Hence prices of grain fell with a "looseness." Yesterday it seemed as if all the weak holders had sold out, and prices rallied. There is now reason to hope that our produce markets, which are so intimately identified with the commercial prosperity of the city, will be more healthy during the [illegible] than usual. Grain is being [illegible] forward at the rate of 400,000 bushels per day, and the shipments are so far in excess of the receipts that the present rate of decrease would empty our elevators in about three weeks, leaving them free to receive the liberal quantities that will be sent in during the winter. If our present stocks of grain could be converted into cash, it would add largely to the ability of the city to rebuild, though it is true that a considerable proportion of that grain is owned by parties not resident in Chicago.

It is reported that Mr. S. S. Hayes, the Democratic candidate for Congressman-at-Large, has withdrawn from the canvass and notified the Central Committee of his party of the fact. The grounds stated by him for this action are understood to be the pressure of private business requiring his attention; and the demands upon his time by the Relief and Aid Committee.

Who will be selected by the Democratic Central Committee to take Mr. Hayes' place on the ticket can not be guessed, but already the names of Judge Caton and Wm. B. Ogden have been mentioned; but it is an idle ceremony to make any nomination or selection, as the Republicans are certain of electing their candidate against anyone their opponents may put up. The better way for the Democrats to do is to let that place on the ticket go by default, and thereby save the candidate the vexation of defeat.

Illinois Nominations.

The Democrats of the Sixth Congressional District of Illinois, have nominated the Hon. Lorenzo Leland, formerly Clerk of the Supreme Court at Ottawa, for Congress in the Sixth District, vice the Hon. B. C. Cook, resigned. At the same time the Democrats of the Eighteenth Senatorial District nominated Dr. Wm. Henley, of Will County, for the State Senate, vice Snapp, resigned.

The Republicans of the First Senatorial District have nominated George Moore for Senator, in place of the Hon. Samuel K. Gibson, deceased.

In the noble work of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society none are co-operating more heartily than our German fellow-citizens. Not only have the houses of those who were fortunate enough to live beyond the path of the devastating element been thrown open to the sufferers, and have the individuals devoted their time and means to relieve the necessities of the destitute, but they have also organized for the avowed purpose of co-operating with the society now in charge of the entire work of relief in the city. Among the German Central Committee so created we recognize the names of Francis Lackner, the Chairman, George Schneider, Henry Greenebaum, and C. Knobelsdorff, the bankers, Consul Claussenius, John A. Huck, Alderman Buehler, Ernst Pressing, Peter Hand, Fritz Metzke, Dr. Ernest Schmidt, &c.

While the great losses in capital fall on our merchant princes and the property-owners in the burnt district in the South Side, by far the greater number of losers are Germans, and yet it is remarkable that but a small proportion of those applying for passes to leave the city belong to that nationality, while, on the contrary, fully two-thirds of those applying for lumber to build temporary dwellings, thus declaring their intention to stay here, are Germans. This is as it should be: we want these thrifty, intelligent people here; we must have them; we cannot get along without them. And we say to the gentlemen of the Chicago Relief and Aid Society, give this German Central Committee a fair representation on your committees and sub-committees; identify them with your system, so that they may say to their constituents, We are a part of the system, and know that all is well.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

Building Permits.

The Board of Public Works is doing a brisk business in the way of building permits, the record of which furnishes an excellent idea of the extent to which Chicago has set about rebuilding herself. From the morning of Tuesday, October 10, the day after the great fire had burned itself out, there have been fifty permits issued by the board, all of these being for substantial and permanent buildings in the burnt district. No account is taken of the wooden structures springing up all over the city, for which no permits are necessary. [illegible] lots "for the period of one year or more at the discretion of the board; the building to be erected thereon to be a one-story building not over twenty-feet posts." [illegible] by the Secretary of the Board. In each instrument is stipulated the rent of the ground—$750 per annum if a corner lot, and $500 for an inside lot, each having a frontage of twenty-five feet, and a depth of two hundred feet.

Sympathy From Abroad.

The following capital expression of the feeling of Chicago's old customers with reference to the interruption of business caused by the fire, was on yesterday received by a leading wholesale grocery firm of this city.

"CEDAR RAPIDS, IOWA, Oct. 19.—Please find enclosed draft for $100. I hope you are getting things in shape again. Chicago has the sympathy of the whole West. A good many say 'Chicago is ruined forever.' I tell them: 'No sir-ree! Chicago is made up of no such stuff as to lie down and die under its great loss. It will rise again more glorious than ever.' We have runners here from Milwaukee and all the other one-horse towns of the West. I tell them: 'No, sir; Chicago is filling our orders right along.' Tea almost gone. Yours truly, [illegible]."

—Messrs. Chas. P. Kellogg & Co., of this city, on yesterday received notification of the shipment by Walcott & Campbell, of New York, of 3,333⅓ yards of cotton cassimeres, to be made up and distributed by Kellogg & Co.

Political Matters.

The Republican Campaign Committee of the Fifteenth Ward are requested to meet at 8 o'clock this evening, at the furniture store of Schulte Bros., No. 78 Milwaukee avenue. By order of J. Buehler, President, and Louis Schulte, Secretary.

—A meeting of the Republicans of the Fifteenth Ward will be held this evening at Aurora Turner Hall, corner of Milwaukee avenue and Second street, for the purpose of nominating delegates to the Republican County Convention.

—Mr. Brice A. Miller, of Miller Bro.'s shipyard, has been brought out by his friends as a candidate for Alderman in the Sixteenth Ward. He has consented to run.

Missing.

Information is wanted of Mrs. E. D. Robinson and Miss Ida Robinson, who were at No. 36 South Clark street before the fire. Send word to Clara M. Robinson, No. 157 East Thirty-eighth street, New York.

—Letters of inquiry have been received at headquarters, No. 409 West Washington street, for James Kane and William Hickey, and by calling at that place further information can be obtained.

Yesterday's Fires.

At about 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon a still alarm of fire was given to the steamer Sherman, caused by the burning of two shanties on Wentworth avenue, between Twenty-eighth and Twenty-ninth streets, owned respectively by John Ryan and John Kidney. The loss was $300, uninsured. The cause is unknown.

—An alarm from Box 51 at the same time denoted a fire in a cottage, No. 20 Main street, which was extinguished before the arrival of the engines. The loss was trifling.

—The alarm from box No. 256, at half-past 9 o'clock last evening, was caused by fire in a flour and feed mill on Halsted street, near Fulton. Damage, $25. Friction set fire to a leather belt.

Insurance Items.

The People's Insurance Company of Worcester, Mass., has paid John B. Drake, of the Tremont House, $4,000, the amount of policy on his hotel, and will pay all in full.

—The Home Insurance Company has paid the policy of Mr. J. Quan, amounting to $7,000.

Miscellaneous.

Harper's Weekly for the current week has several very graphic views of the Chicago fire, but curiously enough in almost every instance has the fire burning in the wrong direction. [illegible]

—The Board of Public Works has issued circulars to the various bridge-builders of the city, inviting plans, specifications, and estimates for the immediate rebuilding of the bridges crossing the river at Clark and Van Buren streets. [illegible]

SPECIAL COUNSEL AND ASSISTANCE.

The Chicago Relief and Aid Society have established a Bureau of Special Counsel and Assistance. The object of this bureau is to give counsel and assistance to persons whose situation may require more special consideration than it is possible to accomplish at the regular offices of distribution; providing, under proper detailed organization, for personal visitation, by lady or gentlemen, as may be requested. Pastors of all churches of every persuasion are members of this bureau. All charitable associations, lodges, and organizations now existing or hereafter to be organized, having any relation to this work, are requested to send delegates to this bureau, who shall be members of the same, no organization to send more than one delegate. The meeting of members for the purpose of completing its organization and plan of co-operation with the Chicago Relief and Aid Society will be held at the First Congregational Church, corner of Ann and Washington streets, West Side, Monday afternoon, October 23, at 2 o'clock. All pastors are requested to give this notice from the pulpit on Sunday next.

DEPOT OF SUPPLIES.

Under date of October 19, Mr. Marvey, Chairman of the Committee on Supplies, issued the following order: "The general depot of supplies of this society will be opened at 8 a. m. and closed at 5 p. m. The office hours at 409 West Washington street will be from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. The Chairman of this Committee No. 1 will be at headquarters Standard Hall, corner Michigan avenue and Thirteenth street, from 9 to 11 a. m. and 3 to 5 p. m. Parties having business with that committee will aid and facilitate the duties now devolving upon it by observing these hours, and so advising the numerous inquirers on the street, and save them needless and tiresome walks. No distribution is made at the depot or general offices, and applicants should be directed to the nearest sub-district for distribution in which they live."

THE COMMITTEE ON EMPLOYMENT

report the receipt of a large number of letters from persons in neighboring towns and cities offering to take the homeless and destitute individuals and families, and to provide employment for the able-bodied.

Contractors and persons wanting mechanics and laborers should send to this committee, in writing, a statement of their wants, with directions in full.

A correct record is kept of all applications to this committee by its Secretary, Mr. Hitchcock, who will attend to furnishing homes for the destitute, and to passing them to their destinations.

Under instructions from the General Committee, this committee, under proper regulations, will furnish to mechanics, unable to purchase them, the necessary tools and implements to resume work with.

THE TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE

reported through Mr. Pullman, Chairman, that there had been issued on Thursday 309 passes conveying 690 persons, of which there were issued at Standard Hall 187 passes for 420 persons, and at the office of Mr. Blatchford, on the West Side, 122 passes for 273 persons. The office at the corner of Washington and Ann streets was discontinued on Thursday morning, and the whole business for the West Side concentrated at the office [illegible]. The proportion [illegible] was:

Chicago & Alton	[illegible]	C., R. I. & Pacific	[illegible]
C., B. & Q.	[illegible]	C. & N. W.	[illegible]
P., Ft. W. & C.	[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
Michigan Central	[illegible]	Illinois Central	[illegible]

The proportion of men, women, and children was:

[illegible]

As Treasurer of the Society, Mr. Pullman gave notice of the following appointments: [illegible] Downs, Paymaster; [illegible] accountant; and stated that he had prepared to commence payment of audited bills to-morrow.

The Committee on Transportation also reported a plan to complete telegraphic communication from headquarters to all depots and distributing points. [illegible] Superintendent Western Union Telegraph Company, was present and approved the plan, saying that he could complete the work rapidly, and that the expense, and that most of the material would [illegible] when we got through with it. Ordered to be done.

SANITARY COMMITTEE.

Dr. H. A. Johnson, from the Committee on the Sick, Hospitals, and Sanitary Measures, reported that an organization was nearly completed for the prompt supply of medical services to those who may be in need. Sanitary regulations connected with construction of houses and with reference to night-soil, drainage matters, etc., have been attended to. Many physicians have volunteered their services, and medicines and medical stores are furnished as required. The sanitary condition of the city is good.

SHELTER COMMITTEE.

The Shelter Committee have up to this time received applications for about 2,300 houses, and have furnished 911 houses, besides barracks for about 300 families. The stock of common lumber is getting scarce in the market, but we are about to receive about 750,000 feet of lumber from Detroit which has been donated to the Relief Society.

COMMITTEE ON CORRESPONDENCE.

Correspondence all brought up. Letters all answered and copies of answers retained. All money contributions, &c., letters abstracted on cash and donation books. Supplies tabulated, and daily reports made of the same to the proper committees.

COMMITTEE ON SUPPLIES.

Submit report of articles, number and pounds of each kind. Showing stock, which will be condensed for future publication.

THE SHELTER COMMITTEE, AND THE LUMBER DEALERS.

To the Editor of The Chicago Tribune:

SIR: I notice in one of the morning papers remarks calculated to convey a wrong impression with regard to the co-operation of the lumbermen of this city with the Shelter Committee in carrying forward the work of relief. It gives me pleasure to say that as a class they are responding liberally and doing all they can to assist the committee to shelter the homeless, and to aid in the work of relief, as they have in years past, their contributions to the Relief and Aid Society being larger than any other class, as the records of the society will show, and the drafts upon them now being double that of any other class. With regard to the work of the committee, we are informed that the impression is abroad that we are furnishing 2,000 feet of lumber and taking notes. In answer to this charge, I will say that we are furnishing for families of three (3) materials for a house complete, 12x16, and for larger families for a house 16x23. We take receipts in all cases, and donate to the destitute and loan to those who have means and do not need donation but a loan, which class we take their notes, payable in one year, without interest. In no case do we take notes of those who are unable to pay.

T. M. AVERY, Ch'n.

CHICAGO, Oct. 20, 1871.

ALL RELIEF TURNED OVER TO THE AID SOCIETY.

To the Editor of The Chicago Tribune:

SIR: In order that the public may understand the condition of the organization for the distribution of contributions for the sufferers by the Chicago fire, it should be known that the Mayor of the city of Chicago, as well as the Citizens' Committee, have turned over all contributions to the Chicago Relief and Aid Society, and that aside from that society there is no other authorized to receive contributions for general distribution. There are many special societies, as well as individuals, to whom special donations have been directed. These are doing an excellent work, and cannot be dispensed with. Our object is to direct attention to the fact that there is no conflict in the work, and that contributions for the general fund should come to this association.

R. B. MASON, Mayor.

CHICAGO, Oct. 18, 1871.

ABUSE OF PASSES.

To the Editor of The Chicago Tribune:

SIR: The attention of the railroads ought to be called to the imposition to which they are subjected under the indiscriminate pass system which has been in vogue since the fire. I know of persons—especially servant girls—three miles south of the fire, who now hold passes, and expect to use them. I should judge there are hundreds of such cases. The railroads have done nobly, and they ought to adopt some measure to get rid of these impostors.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Mr. O. C. Gibbs requests the members of the committees on the distribution of supplies of food, fuel and clothing. Messrs. Julius Rosenthal, Orren E. Moore, Alderman Devine, N. S. Bouton, [illegible], Rev. Mr. Whitehead of the North Division, Rev. Mr. Wilkinson, Rev. Mr. J. D. McMullen, Rev. Mr. Gerwalder and Rev. Mr. Patterson, to meet at Headquarters, 409 West Washington street, to-day at 2 o'clock.

Feeding the Destitute.

The work of relieving the destitute has now changed in almost every respect. The amount of food [illegible] to supply immediate wants has nearly given out, and, as a matter of course, the church dinners, at which the daily need of the flock minister to the wants of the suffering, have ceased. The programme is now systematically adhered to, and it is generally followed that one or two examples will suffice to give a correct idea of the machinery of the society.

A reporter yesterday morning visited the Plymouth Congregational Church, which is under the superintendence of Mr. J. C. Hill, who is assisted by about twenty gentlemen, mainly volunteers, and the same number of ladies, who are also volunteers. Here the sufferers are admitted, one at a time, and registered. They are then supplied with rations for two days.

In an adjoining room a number of ladies, volunteers, are busy all day in dispensing clothing. The necessity for such assistance has already been recognized, and the activity and perseverance exhibited by the ladies in making their inquiries, as well as their courteous demeanor, is beyond praise. In this particular church Mrs. [illegible] and others have [illegible] several kinds to about three thousand needy persons. The Visiting Committee of ladies have also been very busy, and the members thereof deserve great credit.

At the Indiana Avenue Christian Church 2,781 persons are registered, but whether any of these are repeaters has not been ascertained.

At the Halsted Street Methodist Church everything appears to be in excellent order, and running smoothly.

The other churches, where supplies are given out, are being run on precisely the same plan, and are more or less successful.

One cannot but be struck, on examining the quality of the food given out, at its excellence. The finest of flour, the best of fresh vegetables, excellent meat, sugar, coffee, butter, and tea, all of the very best. And yet, there are instances of men and women grumbling—abusing the food, as being fit only for those who were starving. These, should in all human probability, are enjoying luxuries for the first time in their lives, but are [illegible]. It is gratifying to learn that the most [illegible] families were instantly struck from the relief rolls, and their owners quietly advised to go elsewhere and get better. One miserable fellow [illegible] at one of the churches yesterday, that if they couldn't give him something decent to eat than the food he received from the committee, they might keep the blank victuals to themselves. He will be compelled to work, probably.

Relief from Abroad.

The most marvellous feature of the universal movement for the relief of the burned city is its continuity. Long ago it became manifest that every city and town in the land was alive with a feeling hardly second to the patriotism of the war, and now the tidings come from every quarter that the half has not been told. The movement has not been a spasmodic and fickle one, but seems likely to last. [illegible] Below [illegible] mention of the generous contributions of Chicago's friends, and THE TRIBUNE's lack of space were severe more [illegible] when it forbids a full account of all the work done.

BALTIMORE.

In the rush and hurry of the moment no paper or person has done even a modicum of justice to the efforts of the noble city of the South [illegible].

The City Council led off in the work by voting $100,000 to the use of Chicago; a meeting followed with a collected subscription of $77,000; the Corn Exchange, [illegible] $16,000, and the churches subscribed with $15,000. In addition to this the Ame[illegible] opened a subscription at its own office and got $13,000, and the insurance companies helped the good work on with some $6,000 or $8,000. Other private and society appropriations, from Masons, Odd Fellows, etc., made the sum total not less than $300,000. This enormous amount has not satisfied the ambition of the Monumental City, and they promise still other [illegible].

TITUSVILLE, PA.

In a former issue an unintentional injustice was done this city by placing it in Virginia. Latest advices as to the amount of goods and cash sent, in addition to the [illegible] already subscribed $20,000—$12,000 of the cash sent over to the Relief and Aid Society, and one carload of provisions and clothing, which was distributed by General Hardie. Titusville being only about 10,000 in population, will have the credit of having done nobly. And moreover she does not want to have an outburst that she is poor.

DETROIT.

A letter from the Relief Committee of Detroit states that $10,000 worth of lumber has been purchased, and will be shipped as soon as possible. The Purchasing Committee showed model judgment in selecting the kinds of lumber to be sent, as will be seen by the division of the expenditure: One-fifth of the amount to purchase 2x4-inch stuff sixteen feet long; one-fifth for fencing, 16 feet long, and three-fifths in 14 to 16 feet long, and sixteen for siding. Nothing could have been more needed for the erection of the temporary shanties which must be the main reliance of many families for shelter during the cold weather before us.

MASSILLON, OHIO.

The generous people of Massillon, Ohio, have purchased twenty-five car loads of coal for the use of the destitute of this city, to be distributed by Mr. J. Medill, of THE TRIBUNE, who has directed it to be consigned to the Relief and Aid Society, in which he has full confidence. The Fort Wayne Railroad Company have agreed to convey this train load of coal from Massillon to Chicago free of charge for freight or handling. Coal of this kind are indeed welcome. There is a long, hard winter ahead of thousands of destitute people.

THE PAPER HANGERS.

The Paper Hangings Manufacturers' Association have made a subscription for the needy of their trade in this city. They propose to raise $5,000, and have designated B. F. Chase & Walker, No. 109 Randolph street; F. R. Hilger, No. 80 Wabash avenue, and J. J. McGrath as a committee to receive and disburse their contributions. All persons connected with the paper-hanging trade who have suffered by the fire are requested to call immediately on either of the above gentlemen.

IOWA.

Governor Merrill, of Iowa, visited Chicago immediately after the fire, and it seemed to him both proper and practicable that his State should establish a State Relief Bureau, to be supplied by Iowans. A special agent appointed for the purpose visited the city some days later, and, after witnessing the working and efficiency of the Relief and Aid Society, recommended that it be used as the vehicle of all Iowa's contributions to the sufferers.

PANORAMA OF THE FIRE.

H. C. Berry, C. B. [illegible] (Carl Pretzel), H. H. Cross, and C. D. Alderson, all well known in the city, and all sufferers by the fire, have originated a novel idea for their own relief, and that of other sufferers by the fire. Their proposition is to exhibit a panorama of scenes both before and after the conflagration. The painting of the scenery is completed and is pronounced wonderfully accurate. Accompanying the panorama will be a clear and concise description of the conflagration delivered by H. C. Berry, while Carl Pretzel will illustrate the humors of the scene in his broken-backed Dutch. Mr. Cross will also do his part in entertaining audiences by Irish recitations, songs, and incidents. One-fifth of the net proceeds of each exhibition will be devoted to the assistance of sufferers by the fire, especially those belonging to the Odd Fellows and Pythian orders. Mr. [illegible] has examined the project of the panorama and endorsed it as very worthy.

NEWSPAPER CUTTINGS.

The New York World has the following, as among the scenes at Louisville: "One gentleman, with as pure a heart as God ever created, and as kind and gentle as the best beloved mother in all Christendom, called at the relief office on Main street, with a large bundle in his arms, which he said he wanted to send to Chicago. The bundle contained two gray blankets, well worn, and marked on the corner C. S. A. They were, the Colonel said, the only thing he had left to remind him of the lost cause. He had carried them through many a Southern campaign, and finally when the war was over he had taken them to his home. He thought as much of them almost as he did of his children, and he wanted that the blankets would do her as much good as they had done to him in the past."

The correspondent of the same paper is also responsible for the following: "On the train was a party of Louisville's wealthiest gentlemen. They had chartered a Pullman car, and with a baggage-car as a commissary, they proposed to make the trip without depending on the uncertainty of hotels. One of the wealthiest gentlemen in the party was a Mr. Hahn, a German worth nearly two millions. He said he came to Chicago to see the situation over, and if there was that property which the merchants of which I spoke, had lost, that which he had read, then he was for making every available dollar in rebuilding Chicago. This sentiment was expressed by others among the excursionists, and if what they said should be carried out, Louisville will furnish at least one-quarter towards making Chicago's greater city [illegible]."

[illegible] editor of the Chicago Times [illegible] correspondence of the [illegible] in his [illegible] lover of a city [illegible] who is now supposed to [illegible] by borrowing money from newly arrived [illegible]. Chicagoans [illegible] the amount [illegible].

[illegible] the Enquirer had no report.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The publishers of the Spectator, Insurance paper of New York, have donated $500 to the Chicago Sufferers' Aid Fund.

—O. C. Wallis & Son have received $100 cash from workmen at [illegible] Lupe, Randall & Co.'s bindery, at St. Peter's Mass., for distribution among the destitute.

—The citizens of Montpelier, Vt., have sent to W. G. D. [illegible] and A. Keith $1,200 in cash, for food and clothing.

—The children of the public schools of New York are raising money for distribution among the suffering school children and teachers of [illegible].

—Two or three provision dealers of Baltimore [illegible]

ARCHITECTURAL.

More Contracts Let for New Buildings—Probable Strike—Character of the Work to be Done.

Among the items to be added to the list of new buildings already published, and for which contracts are already let, are the following: Philo [illegible] Kingsley about to erect, on Clark street, between Madison and Monroe streets, a block of three buildings, 60 by 75 feet, three stories with basement. The face of the building will be of brick, with handsome stone trimmings. The architect is Mr. T. V. Wadskier.

Dr. L. S. Major has commenced the rebuilding of the Major Block on the corner of Madison and LaSalle streets, on the same plan as the former building on the same site.

Martin Andrews has ordered the immediate erection of a handsome business block of four stories and basement, on LaSalle street, adjoining the Major Block.

A three-story and basement brick building is being built by E. C. Gleaver, on Wabash avenue, south of Van Buren street. It will be occupied as business stores.

The Bowen Brothers are putting up a temporary [illegible], 80 by 140 feet, on the corner of Michigan avenue and Madison street, on the site of the marble block formerly occupied by them as residences.

J. H. Reed is building, on the southeast corner of Wabash avenue and Lake street, a fine brick building with a frontage of 140 feet on Wabash avenue and 40 feet on Lake street. Two stories will be completed this fall, and ready for [illegible].

Henry Fuller is putting up some substantial brick buildings on River street on the site of those destroyed by the fire. The work on these was commenced before the bricks were quite cold, and was the first thing done toward the building up of New Chicago.

The prospects for a steady re-building of a considerable portion of the burned district this fall were somewhat darkened yesterday by rumors of a strike among the laborers in several quarters. The movement was not general, but it appears that several gangs of workmen, who had been receiving $1 50 per day previous to the fire, struck yesterday for $2 50 per day. Some apprehension was entertained of a more extended strike, which would result in a serious hindrance to building enterprises.

A meeting of property owners on Washington street between Clark and Dearborn streets, was held a few days since, Judge Otis was in the chair, and Mr. W. D. Kerfoot was appointed Secretary. Nearly all the owners of property in that section were represented. Judge [illegible] stated that the object of the meeting, which was to determine what the property owners should do with regard to the building up of that portion of Washington street. After mature deliberation, the following resolution was adopted:

Resolved, That we, the property owners on Washington street, between Clark and Dearborn streets, rebuild in first-class style, on both sides of the street, with stone fronts, as early as possible, [illegible] determined that a uniform style of architecture should be adopted, and that the matter should be referred to some competent architect.

It is the general feeling that architects will have to take a practical lesson from the fire, and provide all the city on a new basis. A gentleman [illegible] in one of the large buildings on LaSalle street was asked yesterday by the owner if he intended to rent in the new building. His reply was, "It depends altogether on the manner in which you are going to rebuild. If your new building offers no better security than the old one, I must seek quarters elsewhere."

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

Announcements of Services in the Churches To-Morrow.

The following announcements have been handed in for publication: The congregation of Trinity Church will meet, God willing, for divine service, on Sunday next, the 22d inst., at 10:45 a. m., in the Trinity Mission Chapel, on Fourth avenue, between Taylor and Twelfth streets. Storm Warnings.

The Signal Service Corps of the United States army have adopted a plan for signalling the approach of dangerous storms, for the use of mariners and others. The signal is usually displayed from the building in which the government meteorological observations are taken in the several cities. The Chicago station is now located at No. [illegible], and the signal will probably be displayed from the top of Lind's block, near Lake street bridge. We append the following [illegible] of the signal and its meaning: [illegible] signal is a red flag with a black [illegible] in the centre by day, and red light by night—displayed at the office of the observer, and other prominent places throughout any city, signifies:

1. That from the information had at the Central Office in Washington, a probability of stormy or dangerous weather has been deduced for the port or region at which the cautionary signal is displayed, or in that vicinity.

2. That the danger appears to be so great as to demand special precaution on the part of navigators and others interested—such as an examination of vessels or other structures to be endangered by the storm; the inspection of groves, rigging, &c., and general preparation for rough weather.

3. It calls for frequent examination of local barometers, and other instruments by ship captains, or others interested, and the study of local danger-signals, as winds, clouds, etc. By this means those who are expert may often be enabled to judge as to the need of the precaution to which the cautionary signal calls attention, or may determine that the danger is over-estimated or [illegible].

MONETARY.

BUSINESS AT THE BANKS.

The experience of the banks, to-day, was so diverse in the cases of different ones that it is difficult to generalize, except upon a few points. One of these, however, is that the banks are doing no discounting; another is, that their country customers are drawing on them for much money, and still another and more important one is that, in the aggregate, the banks of Chicago hold much more money than they did three days ago. We believe we are safe in particularizing so far as to say that there is not a respectable commercial house in the city that does not hold more money to-day than it did three days ago. [illegible]

The [illegible] of the banks are not protesting any paper which is not paid at maturity. [illegible]

We believe, after careful inquiry, that deposits in the banks are increasing in the aggregate, though this will probably not hold good in regard to all individual banks.

Money is obtainable without much difficulty for advances on grain to make up cargoes for shipment, partly for the reason mentioned yesterday, that some of the railroad companies—the C., B. & Q. we understand for one—are allowing their money received for freight and passengers to accumulate here and to be used by the banks to assist to move the grain instead of being remitted to New York to lie in bank there according to their usual practice.

Exchange is taken by the banks at ¼ of 1 per cent discount.

SAVINGS BANKS DEPOSITORS

are, in a few instances, expressing some dissatisfaction that their banks have not followed the example of the commercial banks, and removed all restrictions upon the percentage of deposits which they offer to pay immediately. We think, however, this dissatisfaction is manifested by only a few. Of the large number who have as much as $20 due to them, a very small proportion have drawn out the whole of that amount, and there is in fact nearly as much money offered for deposit as is drawn out. The officers of the leading savings banks are in favor of [illegible] in regard to the limit of [illegible] of amount of notice that can be obtained on the part of all the savings banks it will be done. In the meantime the savings banks who feel disposed are drawing the thirty or sixty days' notice required by the by-laws of these institutions before drawing out as large a sum as one hundred dollars. We believe, however, that financial matters will be so far settled in a few weeks that the officers of the savings banks will waive all their privileges under these by-laws, and allow every depositor to draw out his whole balance at once if he wants it.

THE BANK OF MONTREAL AGENCY.

The following letter from the General Manager of the Bank of Montreal shows that the bank has decided to make Messrs. Geo. C. Smith & Co. their agents here. They will probably locate in the new building to be erected on the corner of Market and Washington streets by Mr. Farwell. The accession of capital they will command will be especially welcome in Chicago at the present juncture, and will be of great assistance to the grain trade and also the foreign trade of the city:

BANK OF MONTREAL,
MONTREAL, Oct. 16, 1871.

DEAR SIRS: I have to inform you that at the urgent request of some of our friends here, and in Chicago, the bank has decided on opening an agency in your city in the course of a few days. You are already aware of the reasons we have for adopting this course, and I have only to repeat that our connection hitherto has been very pleasant and satisfactory to us, and we trust it may continue on the same friendly terms, to our mutual advantage.

I am happy to learn from Mr. Park's telegram that you have been able so soon to resume business after the frightful calamity you have encountered. I remain, dear sirs, yours faithfully, to-day was to the effect that all the Chicago banks had suspended. How such an outrageous falsehood got started is impossible to explain, unless it was got up in Wall street for the purpose of creating a panic in stocks and securities. The first effect was to depress stocks [illegible] per cent, though they recovered [illegible] prices of yesterday.

R. B. ANGUS, General Manager.

Messrs. GEORGE C. SMITH & BRO., Bankers, Chicago.

A RUMOR IN NEW YORK

A Philadelphia letter of the 17th says: "Yerkes & Co. announce the resumption of their operations [illegible] of the Chicago fire. They say they have sufficient assets, and will pay up as soon as they can make up their accounts. A general feeling of insecurity is manifested by the banking community, and a strong pool has been formed with a view to carry themselves through the threatened panic."

REAL ESTATE.

Ever since the fire the value of ground in the business quarter of the burnt district has been a matter of discussion, which has in most cases only resulted in a difference of opinion. [illegible] Thomas B. Bryan will, however, afford a precedent in some respects for estimating the depreciation of first-class business property in the burnt district. This forty-eight feet of ground on the southeast corner of Randolph street and Dearborn Park was the subject of negotiation a little over a year ago by an agent of President Grant, who wished to buy it for an investment. A well-known real estate agent of this city, it is understood, valued the property at $110,000, of which $72,000 was for the forty-eight feet of ground sold yesterday for $60,000. The agent of the President deemed the valuation too high, and did not purchase; but if that valuation may be accepted, the price paid yesterday would show a depreciation of nearly one-third. While both the character and position of this particular piece of property are regarded by many as too high, many people are ready to concede the correctness of that this was the relative value of business property in the burnt district.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

The following instruments were filed for record on Friday, October 20:

Warranty deeds. Lot 42 of Lots 5 and 6, in Block 1 of Dyer & Davisson's N. W. ¼ Sec. 34, 39, 14, dated October 18; consideration, $5,000.

Lot 24, in Block 6, in School Section Addition, dated September 1; consideration, $30,000.

Lots 1, 2, 3, 10, 11, and 12, in Block 24, in Hawthorne, dated October 19; consideration, $4,000.

Quit claims and releases, 3; mortgages and trust deeds, covering real estate, 3; chattel mortgages, 2, together with 7 other instruments which were rerecorded by reason of the fire. Also a declaration by Carter H. Harrison, in which he claims the title to several lots of real estate, the record of which was destroyed by the fire.

GROUND RENTS FOR THE HOMELESS.

The expenditure of a portion of the relief fund in the erection of temporary homes for the shelter of those made homeless by the fire is unquestionably one of the best methods of extending relief to those who are worthy of it. Many families whose members would otherwise find work and support themselves are utterly demoralized, while the family identity is, in a measure, lost in such promiscuous crowds of men, women, and children, as have found shelter in the churches and other similar places of refuge. The heads of families lose their sense of responsibility when they find each family and each member of a family on a common level in the crowd of recipients of charity. The object in giving the aid to build these temporary homes should be simply to shelter a crowd from the inclemency of the coming winter, but also to reestablish the families in homes that will secure in some degree, that privacy necessary to the [illegible] [illegible]

FRIDAY EVENING, Oct. 20.

Business matters exhibited a decided improvement to-day. The Board of Trade is, probably now more than ever before, an index, or rather a synopsis of the outside business world, and the tone to-day was a cheering one. Trading in grain was much more active than on any day since the fire, and confidence in values seemed to be re-established. The depression yesterday was well marked in the fact that oats sold 2c per bushel lower here than in Milwaukee. The weakness was almost equally great in other grain markets, and was due to the universal desire to realize, produced by the imperative necessity to obtain money. The great bulk of the property held by the more needy ones was sold out yesterday, and buyers to-day were obliged to pay better prices, there being also more of them, as pecuniary necessities are rapidly becoming smoothed down. [illegible]

[illegible]

It is gratifying to note that our shipments are on the increase, without a corresponding augment in the receipts of grain. If the receipts should keep down within moderate compass for a week or two, the stocks would be handled without difficulty, and if the shipments keep up, the result will be to put our elevators into good condition for the winter, and bring in money with which to repair the waste of the fire.

The Board of Trade will to-morrow commence to do business in a more orderly manner, a doorkeeper being placed in position to keep out [illegible] outsiders. [illegible]

There is some little difference of opinion among the stockholders of the Chamber of Commerce as to whether it is best to rebuild with brick and stone trimmings or with stone as before. The advocates of the latter course urge that the Board of Trade ought to set the example of trying to come up to the former standard of refinement as soon as possible, and that a brick building will be below the standard of excellence in the central portion of the city before three years have gone by.

The following grain has been inspected into store up to 10 o'clock this morning: 131 cars wheat, 117 cars corn, 11,300 bu No. 2 do, 56 cars oats, 14 cars rye, 34 cars barley. Total, (352 cars) 156,000 bu.

The following were the corresponding shipments: 20,780 bu No. 1 spring wheat; 84,720 bu No. 2 do; 15,619 bu No. 3 do; 1,773 bu rejected do; [illegible] bu No. 3 red winter; 161,062 bu No. 2 corn; [illegible] bu rejected do; 387 bu No. 1 oats; [illegible] bu No. 2 do; 634 bu rejected do; 1,544 bu No. 1 rye; 5,544 bu No. 2 do; 7,291 bu rejected do; [illegible] bu No. 2 barley; 5,779 bu No. 3 do; 411 bu rejected do. Total, 454,579 bu.

Highwines were quiet and unchanged. The market was nominally strong early, but closed dull. Sales were 50 brls at 90½c, and 100 brls at 90c.

Lake freights were less active at yesterday's inside rates, though the inquiry for vessels was fair. A total of thirteen grain charters was taken, on the basis of 12c for wheat and 11c for corn by sail to Buffalo; 10½c for barley to Cleveland, and 16½c for wheat to Kingston. [illegible]

[illegible]

Wheat was active and strong, though it was [illegible] per 100 bu and New York was tame early. [illegible]

[illegible]

LATER.

In the afternoon there was very little doing, all the markets being nominal except wheat, all the closing prices at 1 o'clock. About 25,000 bu wheat [illegible] seller November at $1.17, and $1.14 was bid for regular by one operator. Provisions were unmentioned.

Rescue of Boats' Crews Belonging to the Lost Steamer R. G. Coburn.

DETROIT, Oct. 20.—The arrival of the propeller Brooklyn, of the Northern Transportation Line, yesterday, brought intelligence, according to the statement of the Captain, that two more boats of the lost steamer R. G. Coburn had been picked up on Lake Huron, containing eighteen persons, and that they had been transferred by the vessel which had picked them up to the propeller S. D. Caldwell, and were on their way to Mackinac. This morning the following despatch was received:

MARINE CITY, Oct. 20.

To Captain Eber Ward, Detroit:

The following men from the R. G. Coburn are safe at Mackinac: J. L. Hunter, second mate; M. M. Rhodes, of Windsor, trader; Martin Mahering, James Warwick, watchman; F. Mumford, Charles Miller, James Leander (colored), R. Kelly, passenger. The news comes by steamer Magnet.

(Signed) L. LAMPH.

By most persons the inference is drawn from this despatch that only one boat was picked up in addition to that first found, and that this second boat was left at Mackinac by the Caldwell, the Magnet bringing the intelligence to Marine City. The Captain of the Brooklyn may easily have confused the boats somewhat, and supposed that two additional boats had been saved, whereas one was rescued in addition to the first one. Further intelligence is of course awaited with the utmost anxiety.

SAFES.

REVOLUTION IN THE Safe & Vault Business.

I am prepared to contract to build SAFE VAULTS of any required capacity, which I will warrant to be absolutely FIRE PROOF, and as nearly BURGLAR PROOF as any Safe in the market, at a price not to exceed the market price of any safe of good reputation of the same capacity.

If desired I will put these Safe Vaults into any building on receiving 25 per cent of the price agreed upon, and will look to the occupants of the building for a yearly rent for the other 75 per cent.

I will construct fire-proof vaults on the same principle, of any size or shape required, for records, libraries, and any other valuables, at so reasonable a price that no person or corporation having things worth preserving can afford to be without.
